Your intuition will tell you intimate and important things nobody else will—and it will also tell you things your own mind will argue with. As a culture, we have learned to believe that being rational is what should prevail when making decisions. But what about our “inner voice,” our gut feeling—that “little something” instinctual from within, which tells us how we feel beneath those layers of logic?

- * What is intuition?
- * How can you access your own intuition?
- * How confident should we be with our gut feelings and visual insight?
- * What has your intuition help you with in your life experiences?

Jeanette Kildevaeld uses her experiences to elaborate on the power of intuition and has she has used it in her everyday life.

Meet Jeanette Kildevaeld:

Jeanette Kildevaeld lives in the Danish Island Funen, also called “The Garden of Denmark” with her husband and two daughters. She enjoys writing columns, speeches and books to help others heal mentally and physically. She is a life coach and her spirituality allows her to connect with people and help them heal during sessions. When she isn’t writing she likes to travel, run and to spend time with family and friends.
